

SAVE THE DATE

PSP-MSA-CBD (Atypical Parkinsonism) Caregiving Symposium

Saturday, June 14, 2025 10am–3pm PT

Join Stanford's Movement Disorders Center and Brain Support Network for this event for caregivers, partners, and family members who care for those with progressive supranuclear palsy (PSP), multiple system atrophy (MSA), or corticobasal degeneration (CBD). (CBD is also referred to as corticobasal syndrome, or CBS.)

Speakers include a Stanford movement disorder specialist on the topic of what caregivers can do for these disorders; social workers on the effects neurological decline has on the family unit, caregiver stress, and resources; and a panel of Brain Support Network PSP, MSA, and CBD caregiver support group members.

Hybrid Event
Both Online and In-Person
on Stanford Campus

There will be a small registration fee.
Scholarships available.

Registration will open by May 1st In-person space is limited.

For information, contact Brain Support Network
at conference@brainsupportnetwork.org

